

The Bonutti Clinic Welcomes Orthopedic Spine Surgeon, Dr. Jonathan Workman

Effingham, Illinois, USA – August 3, 2017 – The Bonutti Clinic is proud to announce the new addition of Dr. Jonathan Workman, a Fellowship-trained orthopedic spine surgeon, to the Clinic. Dr. Workman will begin his orthopedic spine practice with the Bonutti Clinic September 2017.

Born and raised in central Missouri, Dr. Workman received his undergraduate education at Evangel University in Springfield, Missouri, graduating Magna Cum Laude with bachelor of science and bachelor of arts degrees. He then attended the College of Osteopathic Medicine at Des Moines University graduating as a Doctor of Osteopathic Medicine (ranking 11 in his class of 209), and with a master of science and human anatomy degree.

Upon completing his doctorate, Dr. Workman performed an internship in orthopedic surgery at Des Peres Hospital in St. Louis, Missouri, and was subsequently accepted into orthopedic residency. During his residency, Dr. Workman performed rotations in orthopedic trauma at St Louis University Hospital, and pediatric orthopedics at Cardinal Glennon Hospital.

Dr. Workman was invited to a prestigious fellowship in orthopedic spine surgery at Twin Cities Spine Center in Minneapolis, Minnesota where he received training on the most up-to-date and technically innovative procedures in spine surgery.

As a Missouri native, Dr. Workman appreciates the values of midwestern communities. He employs a conservative treatment attitude and approach and is proud to offer both a broad knowledge and a specific skill set in orthopedics and spine surgery. Dr. Workman's specific interest is in treating the wide variety of adult degenerative spinal conditions, especially of the cervical and lumbar spines. He has also received training in minimally invasive and cervical disk replacement techniques and is able to offer these treatments in carefully selected cases.

Dr. Workman, his wife Sarah and their four children are excited about the opportunity to build their lives, friendships and careers in Effingham, Illinois.
